

	9.00 h	11.00 h	13.00 h	14.00 h	16.00 h
Thursday 17. 7.	Shared Breakfast	Plenary Organisation/Information	Lunch Break	“CMW: From Reconstruction to Emergence” Melissa Surrette, Keitha-Gail Martin-Kerr	“Theorizing CMW” Karin Hansson, Nour Shimei
		Symposium as collective space for learning, organising and developing topics: Questions Answers New Questions		“Agitating Collectivity: Praxis of collective memory writing across geographies and disciplines” Anna Schick, Emina Buzinkic	“blue scholars – collective memory-work and class” Dirk Eilers
				“Ephemeral Textual Collectives” Tine Friis, Iram Khawaja, Morten Nissen	“CMW: Good Enough Decolonizing Pedagogy– for the Ordinary Us” Shabnam Syed Khan
Friday 18. 7.	“Combining Collective Memory Work and Critical Participatory Action Research with Women’s Counselors in Vienna.” Nora Ruck, Barbara Rothmüller, Sigrid Awart, Andrea Kaiser-Horvath, Bettina Zehetner	“The expert ... and the experience of shifting perceptions in and through CMW.” Helena Walasz, Zuzanna Garncarek, Karolina Bonarska	Lunch Break	“Memory, Activism and the Feminist Struggle in the Western Balkan: Reflections from ‘Our stories project’.” Zorana Antonijevic, Slavica Stanojlovic, Snezana Jakovljevic	Exchanges & Open Space Perspectives on, and experiences of conducting and supervising PhD-projects Developing topics
	“CMW as a qualitative research methodology. Opportunities and challenges illustrated with a case of studying ecological emotions.” Weronika Kalwak, Vanessa Weihgold	“Memories of safeguarding the welfare state: affective investments into the algorithmic detection of welfare fraud.” Doris Allhutter		“CMW of hopeful futures. Engaging in collective, transformative, temporal methodologies” Kristine Kousholt
	“CMW as communal healing practice” Bisola Wald, Keitha-Gail Martin-Kerr, Colleen Clements	“CMW. Possibilities and Limitations of a process.” Haleh Mir Miri		“CMW as research based learning” Mia-Charlott Bohnet, Alena Rauch

	9.00 h	11.00 h	13.00 h	14.00 h	16.00 h
Saturday 19. 7.	“Basic assumptions. Grappling with the (supposed) dichotomy between phenomenological and discursive approaches” (Working Title) Bipasha Ahmed, Julianna Challenor, Virginia Eatough, Martina Gerada, Maya Lavie Ajayi, Aylish O’Driscoll, Carla Willig	Cooperations / Projects Special Issue (Karin, Nour, Tine, Micol, Nita) transform! europe (Barbara Steiner) other projects tbc	Lunch Break	“Collective Memory Work – Who Is It For? Expanding Its Relevance to All Women and Beyond.” Laya Hooshiyari	Intervening. The 4-in-1 Perspective Frigga Haug's Contribution Video & Discussion
	“Being and Doing CMW Together as an Embodiment” Angela Coffee, Colleen Clemens, Erin Stutelberg			“CMW in an unsupportive academic environment” Zuzanna Zbrog, Anna Szczepanek
	"FAQ in CMW seminars, and how to answer them" Robert Hamm			“A (collective) matter of hope and care” Maria Stiholt Otto
Saturday Evening - Social on the Roof Terrace
Sunday 20. 7.	“Intersectionality in CMW” Christopher Hansen	“CMW as method in Education Studies” Jacqueline Hackl, Michael Doblmaier, Tanja Vogler	Lunch Break	Plenary Symposium as collective space for learning, organising and developing topics: Questions Answers New Questions Resumé Outlook	sweep and tidy up
	“The potential of CMW for thinking and living ‘the anti-fascist life’” Brigitte Hipfl	“Zine as a narrative of a collective memory work project” Micol Pizzolati
	https://collectivememorywork.net/?page_id=1337 Kerstin Witt-Löw	“Fun and Frolics in CMW. Acting Out Scenes & Effect of Alienation-Effect” Robert Hamm			